DATA PROTECTION DECLARATION

1. Personal data

Die Prinzpraxis collects, processes and uses your personal data only for purposes agreed with you or if any other legal basis in accordance with the effective GDPR provides for the said in compliance with data protection and civil law provisions. Only personal data necessary for operation and execution of our services or data voluntarily provided to us shall be collected.

Personal data shall include all data containing the details of personal or factual nature.

Examples of such data are: name, address, e-mail address, phone number, date of birth, age, gender, social security number. Moreover, sensitive data, such as health related data or data associated with a criminal case can be included.

2. Inquiry and deletion

As a person affected, you always have the right to inquire about your saved personal data, their origin and recipient and the purpose of the data processing and a right to correction, data transmission, refusal or restriction of processing and blocking or deletion of incorrect or inadmissibly processed data.

As soon as your personal data change we ask you to inform us respectively. You have the right to recall your consent with personal data processing at any time. Your request for information, deletion, correction, refusal and / or data transmission, in the latter case, provided that not disproportionate effort is required, can be sent to our address.

If you believe that the processing of your personal data by us violates the applicable data protection law or your data protection rights have been violated in any other way, you may file your complaint with the competent supervisory authority. The data protection authority is responsible for the said in Austria.

3. Data security

Protection of your personal data is secured through appropriate organizational and technical precautions. These precautions relate in particular to the protection against unlawful, unauthorized or accidental access, processing, loss, use and manipulation.

Notwithstanding the efforts to maintain a high standard of service and due diligence requirements, it cannot be ruled out that information you provide to us via the internet or mobile phone may be viewed and used by other people.

Please note that we therefore have no liability whatsoever for the disclosure of information due to data transmission errors not caused by us and / or unauthorized access by third parties (e.g. hacking attack on e-mail account or telephone, etc.).

4. Use of data

We will not use the information provided to us for any purpose other than that stated in the Contract or by your consent or otherwise by a provision consistent with the GDPR to cover the given purposes.

5. Transmission of Data to third parties

Your data shall not be transmitted to third parties.

6. Data breach reporting

We make every effort to ensure that any data breaches are detected early and, if necessary without delay reported to you or the competent supervisory authority, including the respective affected data categories.
